DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 12/11/06 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

3. Claims 88-89 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claims which are directed to a computer program embodied on a carrier medium, is no statutory because it's a carrier wave, transmission medium. Furthermore, the claims do not include a computer readable medium embodied with a computer program, which is executed, by a computer or processor.

4. Claims 1, 6-11, 14, 17-21, 26-29, 31-64 and 69-87 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claims which are directed to a method for determining a bit rate value and providing this bit rate value to an application program or another protocol layer, is not statutory because the claims do not provide a post solution for the determined bit rate value by the application program.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

6. Claims 88-89 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. the specification does not disclose these steps to be performed by using the program code. The applicant only states that the invention can be implemented by a device with memory and CPU.

As claim 70, 71, 72, 74 and 85-87, A single means claim, i.e., where a means recitation does not appear in combination with another recited element of means, is subject to an undue breadth rejection under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph. In re Hyatt, 708 F.2d 712, 714-715, 218 USPQ 195, 197 (Fed. Cir. 1983) (A single means claim which covered every conceivable means for achieving the stated purpose was held nonenabling for the scope of the claim because the specification disclosed at most only those means known to the inventor.). When claims depend on a recited property, a fact situation comparable to Hyatt is possible, where the claim covers every conceivable structure (means) for achieving the stated property (result) while the specification discloses at most only those known to the inventor.

7. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 2616

8. Claims 29-36 rejected as failing to define the invention in the manner required by 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph.

The claim(s) are narrative in form and replete with indefinite and functional or operational language. The structure which goes to make up the device must be clearly and positively specified. The structure must be organized and correlated in such a manner as to present a complete operative device. The claim(s) must be in one sentence form only. Note the format of the claims in the patent(s) cited.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

9. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

10. Claims 1, 6-9, 11, 14, 27-29, 31, 36-40, 42-43, 49, 51-52, 55, 69-70, 72, 74 and 85-88 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Johansson (USP 6473399).

Regarding claims 1, 6-9, 11, 14, 27-29, 31, 36-40, 42-43, 49, 51-52, 55, 69-70, 72, 74 and 85-88, Johansson discloses a method and system (Fig 1) for transferring the transmitted information through the protocol layer via said logical channel being MAC layer of the WCDMA (Fig 4) according to a chosen transport format, the transport format defining a predetermined transmission block size for transfer of said transmitted information via at least one of logical channels, an amount of transmitted information equal to the transmission block size being transferred in a predetermined transmission time interval (Fig 4); determining, at the first communication device, at least one of bit rate value representative of the at least one of bit rate in the at least one of logical channels repeatedly (inherently discloses logical channels) on the basis of the chosen transport format (Fig 4, Ref 80); and providing an indication of the determined bit rate value to one of an application program running on the first communication device and another protocol layer of the first communication device (Fig 4, Ref 82, 88, 90 and col. 7, line 35-59).

Allowable Subject Matter

11. Claims 23, 25 and 65-67 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
